

State To Seek Bids On Span In Sunnyside

The State Highway Department is scheduled to open bids at Columbus Tuesday, Aug. 8, at 10 a. m. for construction of a long-awaited auto and pedestrian ramp to tie together the two sections of W. 9th St. that were left as deadends when the California Hollow Freeway was built.

The announcement marks the culmination of years of negotiation among the city, the state and the Federal Bureau of Public Roads. The talks with the federal and state officials were launched under the administration of former Mayor Bert H. Goodballe.

P. E. Masheter, state highway director, said the official call for bids on the Sunnyside project will be issued next Monday.

The two sections of W. 9th St. were chopped off into deadends at the site of former Chestnut St.'s junction with W. 9th St. The action meant the end of through traffic on W. 9th St., requiring the detouring of city bus service via W. 8th St., and also hampered travel for pedestrians between Sunnyside and most other nearby sections of the city.

The project virtually was assured when the federal agency which had participated in the construction of the Freeway agreed to share in the cost of the ramp.

The state's announcement said the bridge will have a 28-foot roadway with a two-foot curb and a sidewalk 5 feet 6 inches wide. The overall length of the job will be 797 feet, it said.

U.S. Aide Raps Steel Import Ban In Pennsylvania

HARRISBURG (AP)—A U.S. State Department official has urged Gov. Shafer to "take all possible steps to prevent enactment" of a proposed bill that would ban the use of foreign steel in state projects.

The official, Eugene V. Rostow, under secretary for political affairs, sent Shafer a telegram last June 24. Newsmen obtained a copy of the wire Monday.

Rostow told Shafer the proposed bill would not be in the national interest, nor in the interest of Pennsylvania.

A fundamental principle of U.S. international trade policy, Rostow said, is that "imports should be treated the same as domestic products once they have entered the country."

"A country such as ours, with a very large export trade and a large trade surplus has the most to lose if restrictive international trade policies are adopted," he said.

He also stressed that Pennsylvania exports products worth $1 billion a year and has recently sought to broaden its foreign trade.

Moreover, he said that restrictions such as the one being considered by Pennsylvania "raise legal questions under the Constitution and under our international commitments."

Shafer was out of town and could not be reached for comment.

Shafer Signs Bill Boosting Capitol Building Project

HARRISBURG, Pa., (AP) — Gov. Shafer has signed a bill allocating an additional $17.5 million for a project to expand the Main Capitol Building.

The bill, signed by the governor Monday, brings the total outlay for the project to $38 million.

Plans call for an executive wing to be built on the east side of the Capitol, expanded parking areas and renovation of other buildings in the Capitol complex. Part of the additional funds are to be used for parking areas and a central air conditioning system.

Shafer also signed a bill eliminating a requirement that Pennsylvania municipalities that levy a wage tax must credit out-of-state residents with payments made in their home communities.

Formerly, tax credits had to be granted if the state involved had a similar law. Pennsylvania's new statute now leaves it up to the municipalities to decide for themselves.

$824,537 For 1968

Budget Adopted By Lisbon Board

LISBON — A 1968 budget of $824,537 adopted Tuesday night by the Lisbon Board of Education is $2,052 more than that for 1967.

The board accepted the resignations of three teachers, gave another a one-year leave of absence, hired three new teachers and a cafeteria checker and voted to put a 16-mill operating levy up for renewal Nov. 7.

Leaving the system are Eileen McCullough, high school chemistry and physics, to teach in Mentor; Steven Frew, junior high science and assistant coach, to teach and coach in Cambridge; and Bonnie Leedy of Lisbon, hired last month as part-time speech-hearing therapist, who is moving to the west.

Nancy Shattuck, third-grade teacher at Lincoln School, was given a leave of absence to work for a master's degree.

NEW TEACHERS are Ernest Thompson of Darlington, Pa., formerly a teacher at Greenford High School, to teach junior high math at $5,748; Ellen Daniels of Columbiana, who taught last year at Southern Local High School, to teach junior high science at $4,310; and Everett Lambert of Lisbon, who taught last year in Florida, to teach junior high English at $6,003.

Mrs. Viola Prasco of S. Lincoln Ave. was selected from 12 applicants for the job of checker at the McKinley School cafeteria.

Estimated receipts for 1968 follow, with this year's figures in parentheses:

General fund, $703,200 ($698,575); cafeteria, $43,041 ($42,891); and bond retirement, $78,196 ($81,019).

Estimated expenses, by funds:

general, $660,298 ($644,375); cafeteria, $41,350 ($41,275); and bond retirement, $60,651 ($61,823) — total $762,299 ($747,473).

The budget lists $416,198 for instruction, compared with $406,775 for this year.

The 16-mill operating levy does not expire until the end of this year and will return revenue from taxes collected in 1968. The renewal will be for five years — 1968-72 inclusive.

IN OTHER business, the board:

Accepted a $3,607.66 bid from Russell Forney of Lisbon RD 5 to remodel the home economics room at the high school.

Granted $50-a-year raises to the two head cooks and regular cooks who last year received $2,175 and $1,950, respectively, and raised the rate for substitute cooks from $1.15 to $1.50 an hour.

Passed a resolution designating the Firestone Bank and Lisbon branch of the Farmers National Bank of Salem as depositories for school funds for a two-year period beginning Aug. 1.

Authorized Supt. Joe W. Driscoll to attend a school management institute workshop Aug. 6-10 at Atwood Lodge.

Delegated Mrs. Gregg Ramsey and Mrs. Eddie James to attend the annual meeting of the Ohio School Boards Association Nov. 16-17 at Columbus.

Dr. Wade A. Bacon, board president, will attend as president of the Northeast Ohio School Boards Association.

Dr. Bacon and Richard Kennedy, vice president, whose terms expire this year, are circulating petitions for candidacy for re-election Nov. 7.

The next meeting will be Aug. 15 in the administration building.

India Seeks Egyptian Aid For Grain Ship

CAIRO (AP) — India has asked Egyptian authorities to unload 27,000 tons of U.S. wheat stranded in the Suez Canal with a view to transporting it to famine-threatened India by other means, the newspaper Al-Ahram reported today.

The wheat is aboard the American freighter Observer. The canal is blocked by Egyptian ships sunk in it during the Arab-Israeli war.

A representative from the Indian Embassy in Cairo will go soon to Ismailia, on the canal, to arrange for transport of the wheat to India, Al-Ahram said. It gave no hint of how the wheat might be shipped.

Delegates Selected For State Conclave

Delegates of Midland American Legion Post 481 are preparing for the state convention July 19-22 at Pittsburgh.

The Sons of the American Legion will march in the convention parade July 22. Mark Pike, squad commander, will be in charge.

The post will meet Monday night, according to Lester Barr, commander. Plans are being made for the installation of officers in September.

3rd St. Crash Hurts Woman

A 63-year-old woman was injured in a two-car crash on E. 3rd St. 100 feet west of College St. at 9:16 Tuesday night, police reported.

Mrs. Gladys Masters of 410 Monroe St. suffered a possible neck injury when the car in which she was riding was struck from behind, officers said. She was in "fairly good" condition today at City Hospital.

Mrs. Masters was a passenger in a 1957 sedan operated by Lillian Orinckak, 46, of 412 Monroe St., which was struck by a 1965 model sedan driven by Robert Waite, 47, of 755 Sturgis Ave., police said. She was taken to the hospital in an ambulance.

The woman driver said she was turning into a drive-in restaurant when her car was hit from behind. Waite said his attention was distracted by activity in the same restaurant and he did not see the turning auto.

The collision damaged the rear of the Orinckak car and the front bumper of Waite's auto, police said.

Meanwhile, Spiro C. Pappas of 418 Elizabeth St. told police the left rear door of his 1967 sedan was damaged between 2:30 and 7:45 p. m. Tuesday by a hit-skip car while parked on Anna St. about 150 feet east of Elizabeth St.

Pappas told police he discovered the damage when he went outside to wash his car.

New Zealand Obtains Bargain For 2 Cents

LONDON (AP) — Britain's royal mint was supposed to be turning out two-cent bronze coins for New Zealand, but now some of them are worth $196 each.

Some of the 75 million two-cent coins for New Zealand's switch to decimal currency Monday were stamped "Bahama Islands" instead of "New Zealand." They also lacked a date.

More than 100,000 coins were believed put in circulation before the error was caught. The mint explained that the dies for the Bahamas issue were being used at the same time as the New Zealand dies, but it doesn't know yet how the mistake occurred.

Vandals

St. Clair into Daisy Ln., touching off a false report that "a garage was on fire."

The auto theft charges were filed by Lt. Paul A. Burson Jr. and Patrolman Paul C. Blevins. The judge continued the two cases primarily because Poole was not represented by counsel. He advised Poole to hire a lawyer before the preliminary hearing.

Wolfe is represented by Bernard Fineman, who asked the court to release his client without bond on the grounds the youth suffered a brain injury in an auto accident and is subject to convulsions unless he takes medication regularly. Fineman said he has a report from a Youngstown physician on the youth's illness.

Asst. Solicitor Richard J. Clark opposed Fineman's motion on the grounds the police department is investigating "other incidents" that may be linked to them.

The judge ruled that both must post bond, declaring that he felt each defendant should be treated alike.

Wilkinson's stolen car was found abandoned at 7:21 this morning by Patrolman Samuel E. Hayes, police said.

A full can of beer was hurled at The Review building sometime between 1 and 6 a. m., breaking an 18x14-inch window in the office occupied by George A. Shaw, publisher, the police report said. Flying glass was scattered in Shaw's office.

The vandalism at WOHI's building at 236 W. 6th St. was timed between midnight and 6:07 a. m. Police said an unknown object caused a hole one inch in diameter in a 3-x-6-foot plate glass window in the front of the structure.

In the other incident linked to the two defendants, police were called to Daisy Ln. about 5 a. m. on a report a "garage was on fire." Officers said they found three red fuses burning, but no property in danger.

Investigation later disclosed that the two had stolen the fuses from a parked car, set them afire and tossed them over the steep grade from lower St. Clair Ave. into the alley.

Officers said the two could give no reason for the vandalism at The Review and WOHI, adding that Poole blamed the damage on Wolfe.

Continuance Granted Man In City Tax Case

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today granted a continuance until July 19 in the case of Francis F. Owens of 607 Palissey St., charged with violation of the city income tax ordinance by failure to file a final return on 1966 income and an estimate of 1967 earnings.

The judge granted the continuance after Owens indicated he was prepared to make a settlement with the tax office. Questioned about his non-appearance for a hearing scheduled Tuesday, Owens told the judge he did not receive a summons.

Meanwhile, Gene Bell of Chaffin St., who was before the court on a similar charge Tuesday, paid the tax allegedly due and also paid court costs. Stephen Kasunich of 1424 Pennsylvania Ave., also cited on tax charges made a settlement with the tax office. Their hearings had been set for today.

Elevators today are safe, but they were hazardous at the turn of the century. In a single large city, as many as 30 people a year might be killed in elevator accidents.

A Steel At Any Price?

Pennsylvania's proposed ban on the purchase of foreign steel for state construction projects raises some interesting problems for economists, politicians, statesmen and steelworkers.

The measure, already approved in the state and this, is due final approval by the House, but the measure is inconsistent with U.S. trade policy and probably unconstitutional, according to launch experts.

The measure is designed to stimulate the economy by helping domestic steel producers, the bill has an support, based on favorable backing call for by the U.S. State Department points out, however, the measure would attempt to regulate foreign commerce, which is contrary to the authority vested in the state and cities involved in foreign trade. The measure would stand to lose out if retail prices are higher than those of other nations, and taxpayers through the higher construction costs if the state is in the best metal market.

Enlightenment Will Be Slow

The project committee for Economic Development agreed when it came up with a list of suggested changes which had to be given serious consideration. The state's plan to amend the constitution to allow the governor to be elected jointly with the legislature is one of the most radical changes suggested. The amendment that only two administrative jobs will be elected by the people. This has been one of ever winning popular approval. The voters are disinclined to surrender any prerogatives.

Suggestion however, that the governor and lieutenant governor be elected jointly is a one. In Ohio, they run separately and have different political parties. The state would make the auditor, treasurer, attorney general and secretary of state appointments officials. The first three could well be members of the governor's cabinet as fiscal and economic officers, but the secretary of state should always be an elected office because it is responsible for Ohio's election machinery.

Other recommendations have to do with the governor's salary, with a suggested $30,000 minimum, and a lifting of restrictions on the number of terms to which the chief executive can be elected, both of which are supportable. Proposals for a limitation of 100 members in state legislatures, annual instead of biennial sessions, four-year terms for all assemblymen and a single statewide judicial system with judges to be appointed rather than elected all face rough going.

Most of the recommended changes require constitutional amendment and revision, which places the whole CED program in jeopardy.

There is little doubt that state governments and the constitutions under which they operate need constructive revision, but we fear the enlightenment needed to achieve it will be a long time coming.

Looking Before Leaping

It is encouraging to see Congress put its foot down on further American involvement in foreign domestic difficulties.

If the Johnson administration had honored Nigeria's request for military assistance to put down a purely internal struggle, the door might well have opened to another never-ending, ever-expanding brushfire conflicts.

The very fact that the White House even considered Nigeria's plea for arms is disturbing. It would seem the lessons learned the hard way in Korea and Vietnam have still not sunk in — namely that there no longer is such a thing as limited involvement in foreign troubles.

When a country with the power and prestige of the United States jumps into a foreign imbroglio, that conflict takes on international significance.

The Communist world feels obligated to jump in on the other side, and another tension-filled situation is created.

The Johnson administration might well be courting just such a confrontation in the Congo. By sending three transport planes and 150 men to the Congo, Uncle Sam has poked his nose into the potentially dangerous African political structure. Let's hope it doesn't get bloodied as it did twice in Asia.

An angry uproar in Congress over an American military commitment in Nigeria is encouraging. Maybe at long last a mood is taking hold to survey the terrain carefully — ever so carefully — before we leap.

Letter From Max

By Martin Miller

Dear Truman Twill:

It has occurred to me that the great powers of the world may start sending selected military personnel to Israel for special training.

My window here at the Institute for Rehabilitation Medicine in New York City looks out on famous Bellevue Hospital now so decrepit it is to be replaced by a new building.

Erection of structural steel for the new building already has started, though most of the old hospital is still in use.

If you want to get an idea of what Bellevue was like in the '30s, read a book called "Asylum" by William Seabrook.

I told a nurse some of the episodes related in the book were so wild that Seabrook must have made them up. She said, "I doubt it."

Somebody told me that many of the newer, better hospitals in New York City never have been heard of abroad by people who have heard about Bellevue. "Sic transit gloria."

Your Twillery dogs would scorn life in the "big city," where apartment dwellers take out their poodles on leashes morning and night. A row of shrubbery on 1st Ave., within my view, is popular.

Vietnam and the Alamo in Texas are separated by thousands of miles, but they may be closer together in spirit than many of us realize right now, the way things have been going for these many years.

Letter To The Editor

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

I see where our governor finally won his goal pertaining to the reapportionment plan, and as usual no explanation to the public.

Our governor has been handed millions of dollars they say is for education, or for the benefit of education and education has more meanings than most people stop to think of. The way the papers put it, these millions could be spent more than dozens of ways and the money must come from someplace and who will pay for this?

Let's look into the reapportionment plan. This will create many more offices in the state, maybe 20 or more, and these offices will cost many dollars and who will have that to pay?

People start to pay out money weekly for so many things when they start their children to elementary school. Then comes high school, then comes college, and things more than an ordinary working family can afford. These people pay or the children must hunt jobs.

There are a number of questions the people would like to have answers to and why shouldn't the people know?

Who is going to pay the tax these actions bring on?

How much are these new offices and their staff going to cost? How much of this money will help the poor who need it most?

What part or parts of education will get the benefit of this money? How many new committees will be appointed to take care of these whims?

How much will these committees be paid and who will pay? Who will get the education that taxes will pay for?

Did the people of the state make it plain at the May election? Has the time come when the voters voice means nothing?

Now according to the paper the committees are hunting new tax ideas — drivers license tripled, auto license twice and one-half, sales tax added, and a utility tax — direct or indirect.

One following the news can surely see who talks in the state and who pays the bills.

THEODORE SEEL,

Reds Need Help In Skills

GENEVA, SWITZERLAND — In the polished international halls alongside gentle Lac Lemans, Communist and Socialist satellite spokesmen, in their wall-to-wall carping against capitalist curbs in general and imperialist Americans in particular, still talk like revolutionaries, but admit that in 50 years they have failed to manage their own revolution.

They come here, homburg in hand, seeking aid from the very same forces they insult daily to set up an old-fashioned profit system. They ask for electronic gadgetry, computers, swift data processing and most of all the know-how of Western labor leaders and businessmen to teach capitalist management techniques to the Socialist managers of Eastern European industry.

At the podium of the old Palais Des Nations during the International Labor Organization (ILO) plenary sessions, the Communist world's spokesmen — especially the Cubans — are brutal and haughty. And they are deftly parried by one of America's most effective non-professional "diplomats," Rudolph Faupl, the machinist, who is head of the U.S. workers delegation in which are men such as I. W. Abel, President of the United Steelworkers, and Matthew Guinan, President of the Transport Workers Union.

So well did all this work that the Bulgarian and Hungarian governments asked for the industrial management training help. And just the other day the Romanian government signed up for five years. During this time 27 experts from Western nations will help the Romanian government raise "the level of management of their industrial enterprises." The ILO will provide modern equipment for this training center including an electronic computer, books and audio-visual equipment.

More of the Communist governments, which put most of their productive talents into development of stinging insults, are waiting on line for a chance to get some capitalist managerial training. Why?

THE BEST ANSWER came from Vasily Vasilievich Polyakov, Director of the Moscow Car-burettor Works. Here he is the Soviet Union's Employers' Delegate. One morning he followed Faupl, a former machine maintenance man himself, to the podium. Before Polyakov got around to castigating imperialist America, and Israel, of course, the Communist executive told the plenary gathering of the 51st session of the International Labor Conference that:

"... One of the main tasks of the (Soviet) reform is to create machinery for implementing the principle that what is beneficial for society as a whole must be beneficial for each undertaking and for each worker in the undertaking. Profit plays an important role in applying this principle. For the development of production ... it is necessary to achieve added value, the monetary expression of which is profit."

This profit, said Polyakov, should become an "indicator of efficiency and a source of incentive for each undertaking."

"This profit will depend on the increase in the amount of goods produced that are sold."

Delegate Polyakov had better be careful. He sounds just like the U.S. Chamber of Commerce. He may have to burn his party card.

The Communist brave, new, 50-year-old world appears to be a bit shaky amidst the scientific explosions of the electronic revolution.

LBJ's Dilemma

How does a president make up his mind what to do when he is up for re-election the very next year and must try to assure favorable conditions in business and employment?

To be advocating a 6 or 8 per cent surcharge on income taxes looks like an unpopular thing to do. Nobody likes higher taxes. But President Johnson is finding himself in an age-old dilemma — that while an administration may be hurt politically if taxes are raised, it may be hurt worse if they aren't.

Confronted with the possibility of a $29 billion deficit when the current fiscal year ends June 30, 1968, the Treasury has to collect more revenues. If no increase in taxes is ordered, the prospect is for another wave of inflation.

As government deficits rise, the purchasing power of the dollar tends to go down, and wage rates are forced upward along with prices.

With the Vietnam War costing a bigger and bigger sum of money, the administration has a plausible explanation for a tax increase.

The experts trying to help the President figure out the best arguments for higher taxes are likely to come to the conclusion it is safer to impose a relatively small tax rise—such as involved in the surcharge plan — than to let things drift with higher deficits.

INVOLVED in the debate as to what policy to pursue is the complex question of interest rates.

If they are too low, borrowing is increased, and various types of spending are unduly expanded.

The customary way to modify such a trend is to raise the interest rates, something the Federal Reserve System can put into effect. Federal Reserve officials, however, would prefer to see a brake put on excessive borrowing by another device — a surcharge on existing income-tax rates.

This, it is assumed, would level off interest rates and restrain borrowing because there wouldn't be excessive demand for loans for housing and other purposes.

Theorists have a hard time predicting the future. They observe the moderate sort of recession which some businesses have been encountering in the first six months of this year.

Residential building has been slumping, and in many industries inventories have been piling up. Buying new automobiles has been on the downward side but shows signs of an upward turn just at a time when a slowdown in manufacturing due to labor strikes is feared.

The national economy experiences many unlooked-for changes that retard or advance the state of business. Some of the very things, that can swing the country into a boom or depression are beyond control of government.

Indications are that total spending will show an increase from 732.3 billion in the second period of 1966 to $773 billion in the corresponding period of this year — a gain of $40.7 billion, or 5.6 per cent.

ECONOMISTS are estimating that by the second quarter of 1968 total spending will have gone up to $837.6 billion — a gain of $6.46 billion, or 8.4 per cent over the same period of 1967.

These figures are based on analysis of the probable flow of dollars generated by federal, state and city spending. This was at a rate of $149 billion last year, and is running at $175.5 billion this year. The estimate now is for $197 billion for all government spending a year hence.

Impact of such vast sums on the private sector of the economy is hard to measure, but history tells us that during two world wars government spending caused an expansion of the economy which had to be restrained by excess-profit taxes and high income-tax rates.

Maybe the administration should previously have requested the same kind of tax rises on account of the Vietnam War. Most businessmen would prefer a surcharge on income taxes at a 6 or 8 per cent rate than to see introduced wartime wage-and-price controls and excess-profit taxes.

Way pleaded not guilty through his counsel, J. Michael Kapp. He was held to the Grand Jury following a preliminary hearing. The affidavit alleged that he "unlawfully by force and violence assaulted" the two men "with intent to rob."

Laren D. Johnson of 315 E. 9th St. and James Salsberry of 208 W. 7th St. told police they were threatened by a young man who was pointing a small pistol. They later pointed out Way to officers, who took him into custody. Officers said a .22 caliber blank pistol was found in the waistband of Way's trousers.

"Of course," said Dr. A.L. Gray after a pause, "I don't blame them for not liking oatmeal. I don't like it myself."

"I was raised on oatmeal, and I don't like it either," said the subcommittee chairman, Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa.

Motorcyclist Injured

EAST PALESTINE — Joseph Wolfe, 25, of Utica, Mich., was injured when a motorcycle he was riding rammed a guard-rail along Route 51, a mile west of Darlington, Pa., according to Chippewa Barracks of the Pennsylvania state police. Commissioners Name Banks As Depositories For Funds

LISBON — The First National Banks of East Liverpool, Salem and East Palestine will be depositories for Columbiana County's inactive funds for the next two years.

County commissioners designated them to hold $500,000 — the amount the county treasure says is available.

The East Palestine bank will hold $200,000 on its high bid of 5 per cent interest. It asked for $200,000.

The East Liverpool and Salem banks both asked for $500,000 and bid 4.63 per cent interest. They will receive $187,000 and $113,000, respectively, the division being based on capital structure.

Twelve banks made application to hold the active funds and asked for various amounts:

Farmers National Bank of Salem, $9,000,000; First National Bank of Salem and Firestone Bank of Lisbon, $1,500,000 each; First National Bank of East Palestine, $800,000.

Union Banking Co., Columbiana; First National Bank of East Liverpool, Citizens Savings of Columbiana, New Waterford Bank and Union Commercial & Savings of East Palestine, $500,000 each.

Potters Bank & Trust Co. of East Liverpool, $200,000; its Wellsville branch, $150,000, and Citizens Banking Co., Salineville, $100,000.

Commissioners designated the 12 banks as depositories for active funds for the amounts subscribed to by each on condition the county treasurer has such amounts available for deposit.

The designation of active fund depositories usually brings commissioners complaints from the two Lisbon banks since the commissioners' resolution and advertisement says that active deposits shall be awarded to the bank or banks located in the county seat if they make application and qualify according to law.

A 16/100ths of an acre of land in the northeast quarter of Section 29, St. Clair Township, will be offered at public sale at 1 p. m. Aug. 7 on the first floor of the Courthouse.

The county - owned parcel is part of the old Y. & O. Railroad right-of-way. Prosecuting Atty. J. Warren Bettis will handle the sale.

Senate Unit Starts Press Status Probe

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Tucson, Ariz., newspaper publisher asked Congress today for an antitrust law exemption he said would save financially faltering publications and preserve the rivalry of competing newspapers in cities across the nation.

William A. Small Jr. said unless his Tucson Daily Citizen is permitted to continue joint business operations with the Arizona Daily Star—which he also owns—the Daily Citizen will not survive.

But Eugene Cervi, who owns a weekly newspaper in Denver, Colo., countered: "Rich publishers ought not to come to Congress asking for salvation and escape from the cold of competition."

Those statements were prepared for the opening phase of a marathon inquiry into the economics of the newspaper industry by the Senate Antitrust subcommittee. Hearings may extend through the current session of Congress and into the next. More than 100 witnesses already have asked to be heard.

The panel is considering a bill proposed by Sen. Carl Hayden, D-Ariz., and 14 other senators seeking antitrust exemptions for joint operation or merger of publications termed "failing newspapers."

The Hayden bill defines that term as "a newspaper publication which, regardless of its ownership or affiliations, appears unlikely to remain or become a financially sound publication."

Constituents Write Longworth

By WILLIAM V. MERRIMAN
Review Staff Correspondent

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Nearly six months ago, freshman state Sen. John Longworth, R-Salem, joined four members of a Senate committee in killing a bill to exempt Ohio from eastern daylight time.

A legislator only a few days, the Senate's youngest member, at 27, admittedly was wary in casting the vote, since his five-county 30th District was nearly evenly divided geographically on the first time-slow time issue.

But the results of a mail poll he made public today support his vote to retain daylight time. Of 235 people responding to questionnaires he enclosed in answers to letters from constituents, 164 favored daylight time and only 60 were opposed. Eleven were undecided.

LONGWORTH interpreted as the most revealing finding of the poll, however, the desire of the majority of those responding to see increased state school subsidies while avoiding new taxes.

On the question of more school aid, the vote was 120 yeas and 49 nays, with 66 undecided.

But, "Should there be tax increases?" Yes: 93, No: 99, Undecided: 43.

And only 27 of those 235 favored a state income tax, he noted.

But if there are to be new taxes, he said, the preference of many of the people polled was an increase in the sales tax.

Three other questions were included on the questionnaire.

Some 93 favored the present apportionment of the General Assembly, 45 opposed it and 97 couldn't make up their minds. On limited sale of liquor on Sunday, his constituents overwhelmingly rejected the idea, 194 to 35, with 6 undecided.

The majority — 121 — did favor revisions in the state's Sunday Blue Laws, however, 73 were opposed and 41 undecided.

THE DISTRICT Longworth represents includes all of Carroll, Columbiana, Harrison and Jefferson counties and the eastern half of Tuscarawas county.

After 100 legislative days here, Longworth said he is impressed by the "intelligence around the legislature" and the open minds most of his colleagues have on issues before them.

"I'd definitely say there seems to be little predisposition on bills. Most legislators vote the way they think is necessary to benefit the most people," he observed.

Though the hours have proved long, the ex-Steubenville schoolteacher said the variety of the legislation he considers and weekend activities in his district have compensated for the time.

Of course, he had some idea of what he'd find in the legislature. His uncle, Robert Longworth, was a state representative from Carroll County for 12 years.

Is he ready to come back next year for a special session?

"Well, maybe a short one," he allowed.

But at present he's wading through the comprehensive report of the Ohio Tax Study Commission.

Recommendations Are Made In Study Of Midland Schools

The Midland School District received a total of $84,166 in state subsidies during the school year ending June 30, according to a report by the State Auditor General's Department in Harrisburg.

Four recommendations concerning expenditures and securities were included in the report.

Expenditures during the preceding school year amounted to $789,763. Subsidies are paid following an actual year of expenditure.

The following recommendations were made:

(1) — "Our audit disclosed expenses of delegates to conventions were not itemized. We have recommended payment be made for these expenses only upon the presentation of an itemized, verified statement of such expenses in accordance with Section 516 of the School Code.

(2) — "A comparison of budgeted and actual expenditures disclosed, in some cases amounts appropriated for particular items of budgeted expenditures were over-expended. This condition was also noted in our previous report of examination. We, therefore, have again recommended transfers of appropriations of particular items of budgeted expenditures be effected in accordance with Section 609 of the School Code to correct this situation.

(3) — "Direct correspondence with the school district's depository, First National Bank of Midland, disclosed the market value of collateral security provided by the bank did not, at all times total 120 per cent of the deposits secured as required.

Rail Unions' Threat Causes Congressional Displeasure

WASHINGTON (AP) — House and Senate conferees still trying to agree on legislation to prevent a nationwide rail strike indicate they're displeased about increased pressure from the six rail unions involved.

The unions told congressmen Tuesday they will withdraw their interim pledge against a nationwide strike unless Congress agrees soon on the legislation.

The conferees planned a series of meetings today after reaching no agreement Tuesday.

Chairman Harley O. Staggers, D-W. Va., of the House Commerce Committee said he has "high hopes we can reach some agreement."

But he said he questioned the timing of the unions' statement "a little bit." Several conferees said privately that the letter from Joseph W. Ramsey of the six-union negotiating committee complicated matters.

The unions pledged not to strike pending congressional action after the Senate and House approved differing anti-strike plans in mid-June.

Ramsey said the unions are setting no strike date but would withdraw their pledge if the conferees make no progress by Saturday.

About 137,000 rail workers are involved. They seek a 6.5 per cent pay raise this year and 5 per cent next year, plus an extra 12.5 cents per hour in each year for skilled workers.

The railroads reportedly last offered a 6 per cent general pay increase for 18 months and a 5-cent extra increase for skilled workers. Skilled workers now average $3.05, the others $2.94.

Hall Addresses Ruritan Club On Housing Project

Merrill Hall, a member, discussed the "Housing and Urban Development Authority" when the Liverpool - Calcutta Ruritan Club met Monday night at the Glenmoor fire hall.

He reviewed Ohio public housing laws and reported on progress in the county relative to low-income and elderly housing.

Plans were made for a trip to Warren to see the Kenley Players and to act as host for a zone meeting in October at Beaver Loal High School.

All members of the club were present Monday night for the first time since February.

"Ladies Night" will be observed during the August meeting at Carl Wollam's farm.

Remodeling Job Given Approval Of Zoning Board

American Legion Post 374 Tuesday night submitted a revised plan for a remodeling project on its Pennsylvania Ave. home and the new city Board of Zoning Appeals then granted authority for the work to proceed, obviating the need for a public hearing which had been scheduled Aug. 8.

The post had been denied a variance from zoning regulations to permit it to raze the front porch of its home and construct a patio. The variance originally was denied on the grounds that the construction would not comply with a section of the zoning regulations that requires a building to be set back 75 feet from the existing center line of a major highway.

J. Michael Kapp, chairman of the board, said the new plan submitted by the Legion will be in compliance with the zoning regulations. Charles D. Morrell, zoning inspector, recommended approval of the new proposal and the board concurred.

In addition to Kapp, the board is comprised of Dan McKeever, the Rev. E. C. Traylor, Richard Carter and Clare Manypenny. The board was established by Council in June to help administer the zoning regulations enacted in May.

The event will include a greased pig contest Sunday afternoon for youths in attendance.

Saturday and Sunday afternoon from 1 to 5, firemen said, all rides will be available for $1.

The carnival will be held at the lot on Farr St.

Bills were authorized paid in the amount of $279.

Robert Clark, president of the group, called a special meeting for Monday at 7 p. m. to complete the fair plans.

Man's Fine Forgiven In Straying Pony Case

James Timmons of Boring Ln., LaCroft, was given a suspended $10 fine today in Municipal Court, but ordered to pay the costs, on a charge he allowed his pony to stray onto a neighbor's property Tuesday.

Timmons was named in an affidavit signed by Raymond Rudabaugh, also of Boring Ln. Rudabaugh told Judge Samuel M. Chertoff a pony owned by Timmons and another belonging to a neighbor wandered into his yard yesterday. He said he confined the animals in the driveway at his home and notified the sheriff's office at Lisbon. Rudabaugh said he released the animals when the sheriff's office advised him the Timmons had agreed to pay for any damage.

The judge recalled Timmons had appeared in the local court a year ago on a case connected with some chickens which he owned. The judge advised Timmons to "move further out into the country if you want to keep animals, so they'll have room to roam without annoying the neighbors."

Delinquency Charges Filed Against Man, 45

Wellsville Police Chief John Hephner said charges were filed Tuesday in Juvenile Court at Lisbon against Peter Robert Grinage, about 45, for contributing to the delinquency of minors.

Grinage, who has no permanent address, was arrested Monday night following an incident with two boys, 14 and 15.

He was taken into custody along the Ohio River bank, officers said.

of the U.S. 4th Infantry Division was fighting off Red fire from three sides according to the last report from the Ia Drang battlefield. The size of the American unit was not known in Saigon. The fighting raged in a mountainous area close to the Cambodian frontier where fresh North Vietnamese regiments have been braced to drive into South Vietnam during the present rainy season for another effort to wrest the vital highlands from allied control.

The 4th Division infantrymen began running into Communist soldiers shortly after daybreak. An artillery barrage was called in on one group of 30 Reds. A few minutes later another group of about 150 Communists was brought to battle in a jungle firefight.

A short time later another unit of the 4th radioed that it was being pressed on three sides.

American reinforcements began to pour into the battle from helicopters shortly after noon.

Reports from the remote battlefield were sketchy. The site is near the Ia Drang Valley where the biggest battle of the Vietnamese war was fought two years ago with heavy losses on both sides.

A major Red effort in the highlands had been expected to follow or parallel the intensive pressure on the U.S. Marines farther north along the demilitarized zone. Reports from that area today said Communist harassment and artillery fire had dwindled to minor proportions over the past 48 hours.

In the delta, guerrilla forces hit outposts near the two main cities of My Tho and Can Tho.

Perez Ends Longest All-Star Game On 15th-Inning Blast

Nationals Notch 5th In Row, 2-1

By MURRAY CHASS

ANAHEIM (AP) — Tony Perez started his California trip as a king and climaxed it by keeping the National League on the throne in All-Star competition.

Perez, the Cincinnati Red who replaced starter Rich Allen at third base in the 10th inning, ended the longest All-Star game ever played when he hit a 9-1 pitch from Kansas City's Jim Hunter into the left field bleachers in the 15th inning.

That gave the National League a 2-1 decision Tuesday and a record five straight victories over the American League.

Trailing 12-4 in the All-Star series in 1949, the Nationals now hold a 20-17-1 edge after winning 16 of the last 22 games, which include a tie, and nine of the last 11.

Until Perez hit his homer, pitchers had dominated the game with a record 30 strikeouts.

The victory before 46,309 at the California Angels' Anaheim Stadium also helped soothe the Nationals' and Walter Alston's feelings that were collectively shattered last October by Baltimore's four-game sweep of Alston's Los Angeles Dodgers in the World Series.

Alston, however, felt no more joyful than Perez, the 25-year-old Cuban who brought his wife, Pituka, and their 14-month-old son, Victor, to see him play in his first All-Star game.

They arrived in Anaheim late Monday night, unaware they were about to receive royal treatment.

"I don't know what happened," Perez related in between accepting congratulations from Alston, President Warren Giles of the National League and Baseball Commissioner William D. Eckert.

"But when we got to the hotel we had a lot of trouble because they have no more rooms left. So they gave me the presidential suite. I felt just like a king."

Even at the $58-a-day rate, the National League probably would be willing to keep Perez in the suite the rest of the week.

His home run, the third of the game—the others also were by third basemen, Philadelphia's Allen in the second inning and Brooks Robinson of Baltimore in the sixth—broke up a duel that was punctuated more by strikeouts than by hitting.

Allen connected for his homer in the second off AL starter, Dean Chance of Minnesota, a former Angel who was booed by the fans before the game. Robinson tied the game with his drive off Ferguson Jenkins of the Chicago Cubs in the sixth.

Tony Conigliaro, AL right fielder from Boston, prevented possible damage a couple of times with beautiful catches of a pair of shots off the bat of St. Louis' Orlando Cepeda, in the 10th and in the 15th—just before the homer.

A total of 12 pitchers, seven for the National and five for the American, posted a record 30 strikeouts in the 3-hour, 41-minute contest that eclipsed the 14-inning game at Chicago's Comiskey Park in 1950.

Prior to Tuesday, the record for total strikeouts by both clubs was 20 in 1955. Jenkins led the fan parade by getting a record-tying six American Leaguers.

Pittsburgh's Roberto Clemente, on the other hand, belied his stature as one of baseball's best hitters by striking out a record four times.

"This was possibly over-all the best pitching in any All-Star game I've seen," commented Alston, who picked up his sixth victory against two defeats as an All-Star manager.

"Some said the twilight made the pitches hard to see, but you have to credit the pitching. It's still the name of the game. This type doesn't strike out with that consistency. Maybe it was a little hard to see, but I wouldn't have believed it if I hadn't seen it."

Willie Mays, who was called out on strikes when he entered the game as a pinch hitter in the sixth, agreed with Alston.

"It was the pitching, not the light conditions," said the San Francisco star who didn't start in the game for the first time since 1956.

Perez himself struck out in his first appearance against Hunter in the 12th inning. Hunter was still around in the 15th when the Reds' right-handed slugger came up again and hit his game-winner.

"He threw a curve the first pitch," Perez said, "but I was looking for a fast ball because he threw me two fast balls when he struck me out. The second pitch was a fast ball, and I hit it good. I knew it was a homer."

All that was left then was for rookie Tom Seaver of the New York Mets to retire the Americans in their half of the 15th. Seaver relieved Don Drysdale, who worked two innings before leaving for a pinch hitter and received credit for the victory.

Practically overlooked by the time the contest ended were the pitching performances of Gary Peters of the Chicago White Sox and National League starter Juan Marichal of San Francisco.

Peters worked three perfect innings for the Americans while Marichal allowed only a pinch single by California's Jim Fregosi with two out in the third.

30 Whiff, Alston Credits Pitching

By FRANK O'REILLY

ANAHEIM (AP) — "You've gotta credit the pitching. That's still the name of the game," said Manager Walter Alston, a man eminently qualified to discuss the fruits of good pitching.

Alston's Los Angeles Dodgers put together successive penants with the National League's best pitching, and Tuesday his All-Star team outlasted the American League, 2-1 in a 15-inning marathon.

The most-feared hitters in baseball amassed 30 strikeouts, with the winners Roberto Clemente of Pittsburgh setting an All-Star record for futility by fanning four times.

Home runs accounted for all runs as Cincinnati's Tony Perez snapped a 1-1 tie with a drive over the left field fence in the 15th. Earlier, Rich Allen of Philadelphia homered for the Nationals and Baltimore's Brooks Robinson tied the score for the American League.

But otherwise, pitching dominated and Manager Hank Bauer of Baltimore looked there for solace after the American League's fifth straight All-Star defeat.

"I guess they had some good pitching thrown at them," said Bauer. "Perez just caught the ball—boom."

Clemente, defending National League batting champion, sat in front of his locker, perplexed. "It was just one of those things. In an All-Star game, you get good pitching, but it can't be that good. The ball was a little hard to pick up. I could see the fast balls, but the breaking stuff, well . . ."

The Dodgers' Don Drysdale, who went two innings, struck out two and picked up the victory, his first in an All-Star game, analyzed: "Maybe the hitters were trying too hard, and maybe there was just a lot of good pitching. It's hard to say."

Opening on the mound for the National League was Juan Marichal, who struck out three. Then, Ferguson Jenkins set an All-Star mark, striking out six in three innings.

Bob Gibson struck out two, Chris Short one, Mike Cuellar two, Drysdale two and Tom Seaver one.

For the American League pitchers, the strikeout tabulation was: Dean Chance one, Jim McGlothin four, Gary Peters three, Al Downing two and loser Jim Hunter, the victim of Perez' homer, three.

Perez Played Benchwarmer For 9 Innings, Then Hero

By JACK STEVENSON

ANAHEIM (AP) — Magical transformations occur in Anaheim Stadium as well as in adjacent Disneyland.

Tony Perez proved it as he turned from bench warmer to hero in baseball's 1967 All-Star game Tuesday.

The Cincinnati third baseman didn't see action in the first nine innings as Philadelphia's Richie Allen had won the vote for starting and had hit a homer in the second inning.

At the end of nine it was 1-1. "I thought after it got into extra innings, I might get a chance to play," said Perez who was on the All-Star squad for the first time.

Alston said he substituted Perez because "it was getting late, and I wanted to get him in. There's not too much difference between those two fellows so I got him in there."

Jockey Claimed After Injuries Suffered In Race

LONG BRANCH, N.J. (AP) — Monmouth County Physician Dr. C. Malcom Gilman said Tuesday that 36-year-old jockey Perre Biger's death was due to a "trauma of the chest and shock."

Biger, a French-born steeplechase jockey, died Monday night in the back seat of an automobile in which he was returning to New York after being injured in a freak accident in his third race at Monmouth Park.

About three hours earlier, Biger had been injured when his mount, Cosmic Bull tossed his head, striking the jockey's chest.

Biger, complaining of chest pains, was taken to a hospital but was released after X rays and examination failed to disclose injuries.

Two Deadlocked In Ohio Amateur

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer
CLEVELAND (AP)—Slick Steve Pipoly says he's at the top of his game and that could spell trouble for the rest of the field in the Ohio Amateur Golf Tournament.

The popular golfer from Youngstown had to settle for a piece of the lead after Tuesday's opening round in the state's premiere golf test.

The 49-year-old Pipoly and 33-year-old Dan Silverberg of Cleveland both shot one-under-par 70s and carried a one-stroke advantage into today's second round.

The bulky 190-man field found the Beechmont Country Club's 6,663-yard layout pretty enough but tough to master. Pipoly and Silverberg were the only competitors able to crack par.

Their closest pursuer, Jim Hilbrand of Ashland, was methodically ringing up 18 pars to shoot an even par 71.

"I put the blindfold on and everything went well," Pipoly quipped after his solid round that included two bogeys and three birds.

Silverberg, playing his home course, also carded three birds and two bogeys. He was Beechmont club champion in 1965.

Pipoly, in the concrete mix business, predicted a score of 284 or 285 would win the amateur.

Tuesday's scores, which soared into the high 80s and low 90s, seemed to bear him out. The 60 low scorers and ties will survive today's 36-hole cut.

Pipoly, who has played in more Amateurs that he cares to admit, has never won a championship but has come close. He lost semifinal matches three times when the amateur was contested at match, rather than medal play.

In 1954, the Youngstown golfer bowed to Arnold Palmer; in 1958 he lost out to Bob McCall and in 1965 was sidelined by Dick Flockenier of Mansfield. All three went on to take the title.

Only two strokes behind the pacesetters, with 72s, were Larry Sabotin, the Ohio Public Links titlist from Warren; former Ohio State football star

Pandel Savic of Columbus; Greg Moore of Athens and Jackie Frost and Clyde Huffman, both from Portsmouth.

Nine others were jammed at 73 and seven golfers posted 74s.

It was a rough day for the five former champs in the field.

Tony Blom of Cincinnati, who has won this event twice, skied to a 76; 1960 champ Dan Carmichael of Columbus stumbled to a 78; 1965 king Flockenier carded a 77; Ed Preisler of Cleveland, who won in 1946, came in with a 74, and 1961 champ Walter Stahl of Cleveland shot a 78.

A new champion is assured since last year's winner, Bobby Littler Jr. of Athens, has turned professional.

Heavyweight contenders Joe Frazier and George Chuvalo meet in New York's Madison Square Garden next Wednesday night in a 12-rounder that figures to be a rough-and-tough, drag-'em-out battle.

You would think that the two heavyweights would be training at austere camps where they could concentrate solely on the big, pivotal fight ahead.

Instead they are working out at two of the plushiest resorts in the Catskill Mountains. Chuvalo, the 29-year-old Canadian champion, is working out here at the Grossinger Country Club while Frazier is training nearby at the Concord Hotel.

The fighters, however, are going through their paces as if they were working out in the bright, night social festivities.

Frazier, the 23-year-old slugger who has posted 14 knockouts in an unbeaten string of 16, has been flattening sparmates with his short, powerful left hooks. He appears ready to go today.

Chuvalo, an iron-jawed veteran who claims he never has been floored, has been drilling as if he had a marathon run coming up.

$126,220 Grant Given For Ohio U. Institute

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—The Office of Opportunity has approved a $126,220 grant to Ohio University's Institute for Regional Development and the school's Department of Secondary Development.

In making the announcement, Rep. Clarence E. Miller, R-Ohio, said Tuesday the grant will be used to set up an Upward Bound program which will allow 100 high school sophomores and juniors to participate in six-week classes geared to college preparatory work.

Trot Driver Dies During Meadow Race

WASHINGTON, Pa. (AP)—Earl Rogers of Painesville, Ohio, was in the sulky behind Dudley All-Star when he slumped in the seat from a heart attack during the sixth race at Meadows Race track Tuesday night.

Rogers, 52, who fell into the track going into the first run, was dead on arrival at Washington Hospital.

Just Wasn't His Day For Golfing

CLEVELAND (AP)—It just wasn't Robert White's day for golf.

White, of Dayton, called Ohio Amateur Tournament officials Tuesday to say he had missed plane connections. They told him he could start late.

White caught another plane, grabbed a taxi from the airport and made it to the Beechmont Country Club in time to tee off. He played three holes in even par when he noticed he had 15 clubs in his bag, one over the limit. That meant a two-stroke penalty for each hole he had played.

That was enough. He decided not to turn in a card and headed for home.

Rodgers Sees New Mark In British Open

By THOMAS A. REEDY
HOYLAKE, England (AP)—A husky American ex-Marine challenged Jack Nicklaus today over what—not who—would win the 1967 British Open Golf Championship.

"Like this, even four 70s might not win," said Phil Rodgers, 29-year-old San Diego professional who lost the title four years ago in a playoff with New Zealand left-hander Bob Charles, and has been knocking on the door ever since.

Nicklaus, the Columbus, Ohio, holder of both the 1966 British Open and the 1967 American Open, disagreed violently. Nicklaus, 11-4 favorite to repeat, teed off in the knowledge that "it's easier to defend a title than to win one." He forecast that a little bit of wind off the Mersey Sound could shoot the winning score up to as much as 290.

"Not so," said Rodgers. "The old tradition here of 70 never being broken easily could fail this time, and it might turn out that the Open record will go down."

The record for the 107-year-old Open is 276, set at Troon in Scotland by Arnold Palmer in 1962. Bobby Jones was happy with his 291 here at Hoylake in 1930, the year of his Grand Slam.

A strange turn of weather gave the field of 130, including eight Americans, the chance to be wrong one way or the other about how to cope with the Hoylake's 6,995-yard, par 72 seaside links.

Hot sun and balmy breezes dried out the course and the big guns of the game, like Nicklaus, were settling for such things as a one under par 71 in their final practice rounds.

The sharp, precision players like Rodgers, Charles, and 22-year-old Clive Clark of England, were racking up 66 and 67.

Area Man Faces 1-15-Year Term

LISBON — Donald L. Burson, 23, of Rogers Rd 1 is in County Jail here awaiting transfer to the Ohio State Reformatory at Mansfield to serve 1 to 15 years for assault with intent to rape. Indicted on two counts of assault with intent to rape, Burson pleaded guilty May 11 to one count and to a lesser charge of assault and battery on the second.

Judge Joel H. Sharp of Common Pleas Court sent him to Lima State Hospital for a presentence examination and report.

On the strength of the hospital report, Judge Sharp found that Burson is not mentally ill, nor a mentally deficient offender nor a psychopathic offender.

The court sentenced him to 1 to 15 years on the one count and to six months in the County Jail on the other. Burson was given credit for the 71 days he had been in the County Jail and at Lima and the balance of the county jail sentence was suspended.

Morris Gets Director Post With Hunt Foods

FULLERTON, Calif. (AP)—Robert Morris, 53, former president of Wheeling Steel Corp., has been named director and executive vice president of Hunt Foods, Inc., a company spokesman said Tuesday.

The appointment came at a meeting of the Hunt board of directors July 7, the spokesman added.

Air Guard Gets Plane Which Will Never Fly

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Air National Guard unit at the nearby Clinton County Air Force Base now has an $850,000 plane that will never get off the ground.

The "plane" is a flight simulator—a replica of the cockpit of a KC97 tanker with all the instruments — that is used to train flight crews.

Alston Uses All But One Of NL Stars

By JACK HAND
ANAHEIM (AP)—Walter Alston of Los Angeles used all of his 25-man National League squad in the All-Star Game with the exception of pitcher Claude Osteen who worked Sunday.

Hank Bauer of Baltimore had five men left over on his American League squad, including the three pitchers who worked Sunday and were not expected to see action. They were Jim Lonborg of Boston, Joe Horlen of Chicago and Steve Hargan of Cleveland.

The others who didn't see action were catchers Paul Casanova of Washington and Andy Etchebarren of Baltimore. Starter Bill Freehan of Detroit was one of 10 players who played in the entire game.

They started the game in 91-degree heat Tuesday, but they sweated it out into the cool evening hours.

The game set a new All-Star record for time consumed, 3 hours, 41 minutes and the innings, 15. The old records were 14 innings and 3:19 in 1950 when a homer by Red Schoendienst, now St. Louis manager, won it for the Nationals who have taken all five extra-inning games.

The winning pitcher doesn't usually get a booing, but Don Drysdale heard the old bazoo at Anaheim Stadium.

The California Angel fans, obviously no great admirers of the Los Angeles Dodgers, really gave it to Big D when he came in to pitch in the 12th inning.

When they announced over the public address system, "winning pitcher, Drysdale," they let him have it again.

The Angels fans were choosy. They even gave the business to an ex-Angel Dean Chance, when he was introduced as the American League starting pitcher. It seems Dean did not endear himself to the folks of Disneyland in 1966 season before he was traded to Minnesota.

New 'Tax Break' Granted In Drive Against Pollution

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Another tax break to encourage industries to install anti-water pollution equipment was granted by the Ohio House Tuesday.

An amended bill which passed 87-3 expands legislation enacted two years ago which exempted from taxation facilities preventing untreated wastes from being discharged into Ohio's lakes and streams.

Under the new measure, which now goes back to the Senate for concurrence, the exemptions—from personal property, franchise, sales and used taxes—are extended to include equipment which pretreats waste before it is released into City sewage systems.

Among co-sponsors of the proposal was State Rep. Douglas Applegate, R-Jefferson.

Personalities In The News

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—Phillip Crosby and former Las Vegas showgirl Georgi Edwards were married Tuesday night after delaying their vows 45 minutes to watch on television the end of the major-league baseball All-Star game which went into extra innings.

Crosby, 32, son of singer Bing Crosby, and the bride, 23, were married by Dist. Judge Judge Paul Tackett at the home of friends in Albuquerque.

It was Crosby's third marriage. The family said it was the first for the bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.D. Peed of Albuquerque.

UTICA, N.Y. (AP)—Grant Gallagher "is doing very nicely," his elated father said today. And so is "mom" heiress Gamble Benedict Gallagher.

The 7-pound, 8½-ounce boy, born Tuesday night at St. Luke's Hospital, is the third son for the former New York socialite. Her first marriage to her former chauffeur, Andre Pomurbeanu, ended in an annulment in 1964.

But for Thomas F. Gallagher, 34, a state police inspector who also had been married once before, it is the first son.

The Gallaghers were married at nearby Clinton two years ago this month in a church ceremony attended by 15 family members and close friends. Gamble then was 24.

ST. John, N.B. (AP)—Britain's Queen Mother Elizabeth, on a 13-day visit to Canada's Atlantic provinces, says she has found the people of St. John "very warm."

The queen mother, 67, last visited the Atlantic provinces in 1939 during a cross-Canada tour with her late husband, King George VI.

Britain's Plan For Open Tennis Tourney Defeated

MONTE-DORF-LES-BAINES, Luxembourg, (AP)—The International Lawn Tennis Federation (ILTF) today threw out Britain's plan for open tournaments over an experimental period of two years.

The voting was 83 in favor and 139 against. Member countries have voting powers ranging from one vote to 12.

A two-thirds vote was needed to pass it. Open tennis is bitterly opposed by the Communist bloc and by many smaller countries who fear their players would be squeezed out of competition if the pros were allowed to play at Wimbledon and other big tournaments.

The British argue that Wimbledon is accepted as the unofficial world championship, and they want the world's best players competing in it.

Pittsburgh Raids Net Drug Arrests

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Police arrested five persons late Tuesday and early today in narcotics raids around the city.

Two of those arrested were at the controversial church—sponsored Loaves and Fishes coffee house in the Shadyside section, scene of a raid in May where some 30 persons were apprehended.

Arrested and charged with violating the state Drug Act were Scott Miller, 17, of Pittsburgh; Ned Wayne, 21, of Homestead; Earl Gribble, 19, of West Mifflin; Nathaniel Simmons, 30, of Pittsburgh; and Virgil Bennett Jr., 46, of Pittsburgh.

Blaze Hits Pittsburgh Park Nature Museum

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Nature Museum in Pittsburgh's Riverview Park was destroyed by fire early today as firemen had trouble getting equipment to the isolated building.

The building, containing both live and stuffed animals, was set in an isolated section of the park away from fire hydrants and the main road.

Paul Harvey, caretaker of the museum, called it a total loss and said damages were about $40,000.

tors from which they had been driven.

McNamara demonstrated a determination to get more fighting manpower out of U.S. forces already in Vietnam — and, it appeared, out of the none-too-successful South Vietnamese forces.

McNamara noted there are slightly over a million allied forces in Vietnam, including Americans, South Vietnamese and relatively small forces from South Korea, Australia and New Zealand and the Philippines.

"There are large opportunities for increasing the effectiveness of our existing forces," McNamara said. "Clearly that must be one of our immediate objectives."

Asked to elaborate on these points, the defense secretary spoke of "further opportunities for reducing the ratio of support to combat forces."

"This was a reference to the situation which finds many more behind-the-front troops than combat forces in Vietnam."

McNamara, Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and Undersecretary of State Nicholas Katzenbach all sounded generally optimistic notes in brief statements upon their return.

While acknowledging the pacification effort has been moving "very slowly indeed," the defense secretary spoke glowingly of progress in other areas.

McNamara said progress in Vietnamese self-government, including actions of a constituent assembly and preparation for national elections, "is tremendous progress in a country that is under the intense pressure from outside powers."

On the military front, the defense secretary gave an upbeat assessment.

Westmoreland is destroying the Communist bases in South Vietnam, McNamara said, and the Communists have felt this pressure.

"Their force has tended to stabilize instead of continuing to increase, as it did last year," McNamara said, claiming troop levels have remained stable for the last six to nine months.

The U.S. Command in Saigon recently announced Communist strength in South Vietnam, counting both Viet Cong and North Vietnamese, had reached a record 296,000 men.

McNamara contended Westmoreland's pressure had forced the Communists to change the direction of their attacks.

"They have been forced to move to the northern area, the DMZ area, where the line of communication is shorter and the support of their forces much simpler."

This was McNamara's explanation for mounting North Vietnamese offensive activity through the six-mile-wide buffer zone. This has featured heavy use of artillery and strong infantry attacks on Marine positions below the old demilitarized zone.

Veteran Window Cleaner To Retire

Merrill's All 'Washed Up'

By JERRY NACHMAN

Merrill Danley, long-time window washer who at his 66th birthday last month still dangled from third- and fourth-floor windows protected only by a strap, has sold his firm and will operate on a semi-retired basis only until October.

A familiar figure in the downtown area, he sold his firm to Donald Glass, operator of Glass Janitorial Service, recently and will continue to work for Glass until this fall, when social security benefits will begin.

Born in East Liverpool, Danley, who lives at 1905 Lisbon St., began window washing 40 years ago after developing eye trouble.

HE ALSO had been a Crucible Steel Co. employee and a phonograph repairman at Smith & Phillips. In radio's infancy, Danley repaired the old battery sets as far back as the early 20's, when the station was what is now KDKA in Pittsburgh.

"I've never had a slow day," Danley commented, explaining that even during the worst periods of the Depression he "always earned a good living."

His first day out produced 14 jobs and "a lot of encouragement." Even now he handles some 15 stores daily and has worked a 12-hour day, six-day week steadily throughout his career.

Many of his 85 customers have marveled at how Danley makes a tricky job look easy.

could not give an answer until after its Friday meeting, but, he said, it is his belief the club will go along with the idea.

Arner pointed out the group's service probably would not involve more than 15 minutes a day, which would be used to make four to six telephone calls.

"We're at the age now where we should be concerned," Lutton noted.

"I hardly see how we can refuse," one woman explained, "we may need the ambulance."

Arner continued the discussion, pointing out all calls for the ambulance will come through the fire department's number and that the City Hall caretakers, who are responsible for the dispatching of police and firemen, will make the necessary calls to alert the ambulance drivers.

He outlined the procedure for a "backup" service which he said the funeral home will provide in the event the squad is caught with two emergency calls at one time. However, he noted, if an emergency call is received and then a non-emergency invalid call, the invalid call will have to wait until the men are finished with the emergency.

Questioned about training, Arner said most of the men are experienced or at least familiar with first-aid procedures and so no major problem should be posed.

The squad will have no set fee, it was pointed out, but a family plan similar to the one planned in East Liverpool may be set up. Arner said a set fee would pose problems of incorporation.

One woman in the Senior Citizens group suggested the service "is a good cause to which many organizations could contribute."

Members pointed out a program would have to be set up immediately to insure ambulance protection for the community.

James Walker, a city fireman, is preparing his service for East Liverpool to meet the deadline. He is scheduled to begin operations at 8 a.m. Saturday.

Lutton declared last night, "If it can work other places, I see no reason why it can't work here."

The group discussed similar services which are in full-swing in many parts of the country.

William Mackall, a resident of Route 2, declared the group will need a continuous donation.

His plan would be to mail letters to residents of Chester, Newell and all of RD 2 explaining the situation, and include a pledge card similar to ones used by churches asking for a contribution of $1 per month during the year.

Arner said that sum from the majority of the residents would be more than sufficient to sustain the service and might eventually allow the organization to purchase a new ambulance without incurring heavy debts.

The pilot said his plane was damaged July 5 when the mutineers seized the airport and they forced him at gunpoint to repair the aircraft so they could use it.

Marines Under Fire

Red Artillery Hammers Outpost Near Viet DMZ

CON THIEN, Vietnam (AP) — Con Thien is a miserable rise of not more than 100 feet high that commands a good view of the amber dust and scrub of the western lowlands of the demilitarized zone.

The bunkers, command post and artillery battery here have become a focus for the heaviest fighting of the war. The U.S. Marines are in a summer campaign to keep tough North Vietnamese army units out of South Vietnam.

The fighting has been mostly within one or two miles in all directions from Con Thien.

The Marines repulsed one strong attack of North Vietnamese but recently the attacks have been all artillery — more than 2,000 rounds of rockets and heavy gunfire.

Helicopters used to bring supplies morning and night. Supplies come by road now. To evacuate the dead and wounded, choppers weave from side to side at bush-top level up the road from Cam Lo and settle quickly into a whirlwind of dust.

From bunkers and holes, Marines loped toward the helicopters with their dead and wounded, put them aboard, and run back.

There are no breaks. The North Vietnamese shell all day; sometimes heavily—806 rounds one day—and sometimes lightly. This calls for care all the time.

The Marines at Con Thien are generally reluctant to talk, but two privates did so with the understanding that they not be identified. Both have spent several weeks at Con Thien.

"You know how you have your friends, and you get a little group together," Dan said.

"We're the only friends left in our group. Joe and I were going to celebrate our birthdays together. He was killed. He would have been old enough to vote today."

A shell whipped in and dust trickled into the bunker. A second later, dust from the explosion darkened the ring slit like a sudden overcast. The dust went away and it brightened inside.

"It's terrible," said Jim. "Sometimes you can see the flashes right out in front of you. Flash, flash, flash. It takes 30 seconds and then they hit. We saw one rocket all the way. It came right out of the sky toward us with a big yellow tail. It missed."

"You never know. Three guys were standing together the other day. Two guys were killed. The other wasn't scratched. There's nothing you can do."

"You get to the point where you can't worry about it, but I'm getting jumpy."

Reuther Puts New Demands To Chrysler

DETROIT (AP) — Walter P. Reuther takes to Chrysler Corp. today new contract demands of his United Auto Workers union. They include profit sharing, with the threat of a strike to get it.

Reuther's Chrysler visit is his third in as many days to members of automotive's Big Three, where current three-year pacts run out Sept. 6.

He previously dropped on bargaining tables at General Motors Corp. and Ford Motor Co., similar sets of what he describes as the union's "longest and most ambitious" list of demands.

The profit-sharing goal came as a surprise Monday at General Motors. Reuther emphasized this as "essential" to a peaceful settlement at Ford Tuesday.

A guaranteed annual income previously had been given top billing among union goals.

Under a guaranteed annual income plan, Reuther says a worker must know at the beginning of a year what his income for the next 12 months will be, any layoffs not withstanding.

On top of that, the UAW president disclosed as new bargaining opened that the union wants bonuses based on profits at the end of the fiscal year, just as company executives get bonuses and stockholders get extra dividends.

Reuther repeatedly has failed to gain profit sharing from the Big Three in past negotiations. There have been no indications the companies are any more disposed to agree to it now.

At a news conference preceding his Tuesday visit to Ford, Reuther emphasized his determination to get it this time.

The UAW won profit sharing at American Motors Corp. in 1961, but except for the first two years, American, smallest of the automakers has had no profits to share.

NAACP Fight

'Young Turks' Want Leadership

BOSTON (AP) — While 2,000 NAACP delegates relax in the early, easygoing days of their national convention, a small group mindful of a growing militancy among young Negroes is waging a behind-the-scenes fight to gain control of the 58-year-old organization.

For the fifth successive year, a group of delegates primarily in their 30s, dissatisfied with what they consider overly conservative policies, are trying to change the rules so they can control the policymaking board of directors.

These "young Turks," as they are known within the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, have won a slightly stronger hand each year.

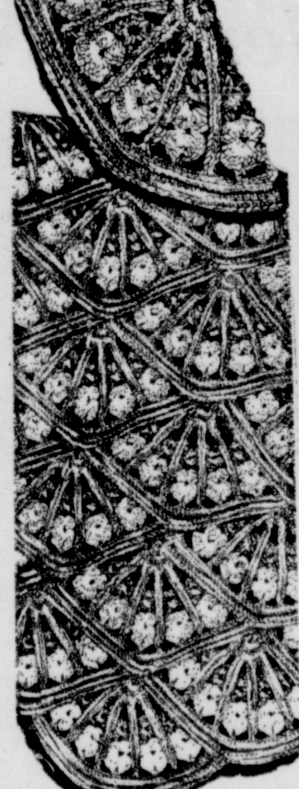

They believe they may come out on top this year, but the present leadership doesn't agree.

"They don't have a snowball's chance in hell at this convention," said one of the "old guard" as he walked away, laughing.

"This is not a personal attack on Roy Wilkins, Gloucester Current, John Morsell or any of the old guard," said Chester I. Lewis, a Wichita, Kan., attorney who is generally considered a leader of the young Turks.

"Many of these old ducks have made a hell of a contribution in years past. I have great

Is It Fat Or Muscle?

There are some fun tests that show whether you are a lean teen, or a fat and flabby one. If you have a lot of fat that doesn't fit your frame, your mirror will reveal it. But for moderate degrees of overweight, the picture is not so clear.

Speaking before a group of 200 teen-age leaders at a National Youth Congress, Dr. Olaf Mickelsen, professor of nutrition at Michigan State University, gave some clues for determining the amount of fat padding. Try them on for size.

IN A swimming pool, lying motionless in the water, do you sink or float? The sinkers are lean, the floaters have excess fat padding. As you physics students know, the specific gravity of adipose tissue is less than the specific gravity of muscle. Fat floats.

Try the pinch test. Since much of the excess fat in the body is right under the skin, it is possible to get a rough answer to the question "How fat am I?"

Lean slightly to one side to relax the skin. Between your thumb and index finger, pick up a fold of skin midway between top of hip bone and lowest rib. If the skinfold is approximately an inch or less thick, that's normal. If it's more than an inch, take action.

An evaluation of the amount of excess fat is important before you make your decision as to whether you are "too fat". Otherwise you may attempt to take off pounds when there isn't any surplus fat padding.

In Reports On County Offices, Boards

2 Findings Returned By Examiner

LISBON — Two findings totaling $200.82 are the only entries on Page 1 of a report of an examination of certain Columbiana County offices, boards and commissions. Neither finding is against the county.

The examination was conducted by Eugene D. Delisio and covers the county treasury, treasurer, auditor and county commissioners only. The audit period was March 10, 1963, to March 31, 1966.

A FINDING of $183.32 was made against Ward Food, Inc., of Youngstown. The examiner said this represented a duplicate payment for bread and buns delivered to the County Home during December 1965.

The other finding is against the E. S. Ward Agency of Lisbon for $17.50, representing a premium county commissioners paid on a $5,000 bond for Lawrence J. Pike of East Palestine, who was appointed acting superintendent of the County Home Oct. 9, 1965, and resigned Oct. 23.

Another payment of $17.50 was made to the Ward Agency Nov. 17 for the premium on the bond for Robert Boyce, appointed Oct. 23 to succeed Pike. The examiner said a refund of the premium on Pike's bond should have been made since he served only two weeks of the one-year period covered by the bond.

The examiner noted several instances of the county spending money without authority of statute.

REFERRING to the $3,000 county commissioners paid to the County Community College Board of Trustees "to meet expenses of the college survey," the examiner said the attorney general ruled (1966) that county commissioners have no legal authority to appropriate sums of money for preparing community college plans. Commissioners gave the trustees another $2,000 but it was designated "for college work" and was not considered illegal.

A check of payments for legal advertising, for compliance with laws governing number of insertions and maximum rate chargeable for publications, disclosed the following overpayments — the difference between amounts charged and the correct charge:

The Evening Journal, Lisbon, $135.14; The Salem News, $34.82; The Leontia Courier, $24.80; The Wellsville Press, $76.86, and the East Palestine Daily Ledger, $2.60.

Another payment contrary to statute was $46.50 paid Pike as reimbursement for transportation from his residence in East Palestine to the County Home while he was acting superintendent. The examiner said the attorney general (1931) ruled that public employees are not entitled to transportation expense from their home to their place of work.

COUNTY HOME improvements during the audit period totaled $18,528.68 and, according to the examiner, constitute illegal expenditures of public funds.

The examiner said the improvements were made without complying with sections of the code relative to advertising for bids and entering into contracts.

"The commissioners attempted to proceed by force account, purchasing all of the material and employing the necessary labor to make said improvements. However, such an improvement cannot be made by force account as held in 1939 Ohio attorney general opinion #16," Delisio said.

A summary of these payments shows $4,550.18 for remodeling the county home hospital, $1,355.72 for improvements to the beef barn and $1,834.68 for the sewage plant building, all in 1963, and $10,788.10 for remodeling the County Home building between April and July 1964.

A detailed examination of the distribution made by the county auditor of all fines, costs and fees paid into the county treasury during the audit period by the various mayors, Municipal Court and county courts revealed several errors, the examiner said. A finding for adjustment was made against the general fund for $672.67 in favor of the road and bridge fund and the county law library fund.

THE EXAMINER noted that minutes of the County Board of Revision — commissioners, county auditor and county treasurer — "did not disclose whether a majority of the board approved of the action taken on various matters discussed, by reason of the fact that it does not show a motion, properly seconded and the vote taken thereon."

"In the majority of cases, purchase orders, with the county auditor's certification of available funds included thereon, were issued by the county commissioners' office prior to placing the order. Exceptions to this were disclosed in many purchases made for the County Home during the year 1965 and through March 31, 1966. Here it was found that the purchase orders and certifications were made at the time bills were paid, which in many cases was months after delivery of the goods contrary to the statute. It also was disclosed that many County Home obligations paid out of 1966 appropriations were actually incurred but not encumbered during the calendar year 1965, contrary to statute."

Copies of the examiner's report are on file in the various offices examined and are available for public inspection.

Ohio House Plans Action On Air Pollution Controls

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A comprehensive bill aimed at curbing air pollution in Ohio was expected to win approval of the Ohio House today.

The measure by Rep. David Albritton R-85 Dayton and 20 other sponsors from both parties would set up an agency to control air pollution similar to the one that now seeks to keep Ohio waters clean.

Legislators are tackling other important problems on increasingly heavy calendars despite all the attention being focused on higher taxes—expected to jell into specific proposals in about a week.

During a 2½-hour floor session Tuesday, the House passed six bills and two resolutions. They included a bill to soften Ohio's tough wage garnishment law and a resolution creating an Ohio Commission on Crime.

In other developments, the Senate Judiciary Committee recommended passage of House approved bills increasing the penalty for desecrating the Ohio or American flags and to control crowds at riot and disaster scenes.

House approval of the garnishment measure came by an unexpectedly wide margin, 78-15, over protests of Rep. James Thorpe R-90 Alliance that "if this is a bleeding heart bill, it is bleeding in the wrong place."

He contended that the bill would hit small merchants, doctors, dentists and others but "not the finance companies which have security." It would only help those who don't pay their bills, he said.

The bill would increase the wage exemption on a single person's monthly income from $100 to $200. Employees with families could keep 70 per cent of weekly wages, 65 per cent of bimonthly paychecks and 82.5 per cent of monthly salaries.

Other bills passed by the House would extend tax exemption to water pollution facilities not under jurisdiction of the State Water Pollution Control Board, ban parking on any portion of freeways except in emergencies, and allow courts to issue injunctions without requiring bond to be posted in domestic relations cases.

Albritton's air pollution bill would create an Air Pollution Control Board in the Health Department. It would include the directors of health and development and three members named by the governor to represent municipalities, industries and agriculture.

Rule-making and enforcement powers would be broad, including authority to levy fines of $500 a day for industries or persons failing to comply with the board's orders.

Among the board's duties:

- Develop a program for the prevention, control, and abatement of pollution.
- Advise, consult, and cooperate with any government or private agency concerned in the field.
- Engage in and encourage studies and research.
- Adopt regulations and quality standards.
- Issue, revoke, modify, or deny permits.
- Establish a system of monitoring stations at various points throughout the state.

Mercouri Faces Citizenship Loss In Greek Action

ATHENS (AP)—Actress Melina Mercouri will be stripped of her Greek citizenship for criticizing Greece's military dictatorship, a member of the ruling junta said today. Brig. Stylianos Patakos, interior minister, said he would sign the order soon.

Patakos said the order would apply not only to Miss Mercouri, who gained world fame in the film "Never on Sunday," but to "all those who act antinational-ly." The order will also confiscate any property those affected have in Greece. Miss Mercouri, 42, is currently appearing in New York in a musical version of the movie that made her famous. She has publicly criticized the coup.

She is married to director Jules Dassin, an American citizen. Cognac is so - called from the town where it is produced - Cognac, France.

Charges Dropped Against 2 Ballet Stars In Frisco

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) —

Dame Margot Fonteyn and Rudolf Nureyev, ballet's foremost partners who explored Hippeville's fascinations, escaped today the embarrassment of court arraignment on charges of disturbing the peace.

The charges against Dame Margot, Nureyev and 16 others arrested at 3 a.m. Tuesday at a noisy party in a shabby Haight-Ashbury district flat, were ordered dropped.

Frederick J. Whisman, assistant district attorney, said Tuesday the decision to drop all charges "has nothing to do with the identity of any of the persons involved and I feel there was reasonable cause for the arrests."

But he said, the evidence was not enough to determine who among the 18 arrested had marijuana or disturbed the peace. Each of the 18, including the British Royal Ballet stars, had been booked about 4:30 a.m. at city prison on charges of disturbing the peace and being in a place where marijuana was kept. A group of hippies visited the ballet stars backstage after gram to aid 192,000 low-income Massachusetts families will cost about $14 million annually.

You Must Pick It Up Yourself

The Art Of Killing Time

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — No art is as widespread in American business life as the art of killing time.

It is an art which isn't taught in school or university. One has to pick it up by one's self, largely by watching how fellow office workers do it.

It takes a lot of time to become skilled in killing company time. In this respect it is like piano playing—practice makes perfect.

The nice thing about it is that you get paid while learning it. And it isn't as lonely to work at as most arts. Everybody in the place is at least a part-time time killer, and some even give their full endeavor to it.

If you look around your own office, you may find these time-killing employees familiar:

The Ambusher—He hangs around the water cooler telling old jokes to all who amble up to cool their thirsty pipes. On a good day he wastes not only his own time but the time of from 15 to 20 other persons.

The Receptionist—With her, killing time is less an art than an industry. She does it by reading long novels. She can't decide which is her favorite—"Anthony Adverse," which she has read 12 times, or "Gone with the Wind," which she had gone through 17 times. If nothing else is handy, she reads the "Boston Cookbook."

The Great Pretender—This fussy dynamo is always in action, scribbling furiously on memo pads, opening and closing his desk drawers, pawing through files. He looks dramatic but never gets anything done. If the office ever gave an Oscar for acting, he'd win it every year.

Mr. Big Ears—As a self-appointed espionage agent for the front office, he hangs out for hours in the company cafeteria listening to what the other employees talk about during their coffee breaks. He tries to uncover at least one conspiracy a week against the management, but his spying is a joke to his coworkers. They refer to him as "Agent 00½M."

The hypochondriac — He'd rather poison himself with pills and palliatives than do an honest day's work. When he isn't busy rearranging his medicines, he can be found in the wash-room studying his tongue in the mirror to see if it's coated.

'State Of Seige'

Passport Tangle Caused By Israel Travel Boom

By JEAN HELLER
NEW YORK (AP) — When threats of war rumbled across the Sinai Desert last month and reverberated around the world, the reaction of many Americans was to help Israel, in money, in mind and often in person.

Some said they would fight for Israel if the U.S. government would permit it. Some went there to work on collective farms and in factories to free Israeli men for battle.

When the war ended, those who wanted to help were joined by those who simply wanted to see.

The result has been nearly six weeks of massive tangle in the State Department passport division, with one of every five passport applications here specifying trips to Israel and many other listing Arab nations where there is no ban on travel, especially Lebanon.

"We're in a virtual state of seige," said Joseph R. Callahan, agent in charge of the New York City office where the brunt of passport applications were filed.

Outside Callahan's office, hundreds of persons stood in lines hour after hour waiting to file their applications or pick up their passports.

The influx has pushed what is normally the office's busiest time of year into the nightmare category.

"I don't know if we've had some sort of record in applications," Callahan said, "but I don't remember anything like it in my career." Normally during the busy early summer months, the office averages 1,000 applications per day. Since

The Genius—The boss himself is probably the biggest unconscious time killer of all. He spends most of his time brooding over how much time his hired hands fritter away on the jobs. His verdict: "Never have so many done so little for so much."

There they are: the office gallery of time wasters. Recognize yourself?

June 2 this year, the average has been 2,100 with very little decrease during the few days of war when even travel to Israel was prohibited.

"They weren't allowed to go but they kept applying anyway," Callahan said. "And I really don't know when this might subside."

Florida Couple Concludes Visit At Summitville

SUMMITVILLE — Mr. and Mrs. Oren Haynam of Florida have concluded a visit at the home of Mrs. Beulah Bucey.

Mr. and Mrs. James Blackburn and family are visiting relatives in Kentucky and Indiana.

Big Frog! !

MUSKOGEE, Okla. (AP) — Henry Brashears learned Tuesday that the "big frog" he thought he had shot with his rifle late Monday was a 3½-foot, 25-pound alligator.

Brashears, a retired St. Louis hardware dealer, was told by a neighbor he sure had a "big frog" in his farm pond. Brashears shot it Monday night.

Tuesday, he found the alligator floating in the pond—dead of a rifle bullet. He said he had no idea how the alligator got into his pond.

He said the 600-mile drive can be made in about 11 hours. A side trip to Niagara Falls was also recommended.

'I Don't Believe It,' Says Airman At Beauty Event

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — An Ohio serviceman, Larry Singer, is spending the second anniversary of his entry into the Air Force by ogling 66 beauties in the Miss Universe pageant.

Singer, on leave before going to Vietnam, hitchhiked by airplane to Miami Beach.

"As long as things are happening I thought Miami was as good a place as any to go," Singer said with a smile as some longlegged beauties passed.

"It is truly regretful that they can't date, but at least I get to see what other guys dream about," the 21-year-old airman said.

"I don't believe it, I just don't believe it. The guys back home are never going to believe it either."

Singer, a native of Youngstown, Ohio, will celebrate his Air Force anniversary today by watching the preliminary judging in the Miami Beach Auditorium, where the 15 best in swimsuits will be selected.

Singer said he can't afford to remain for the finals Saturday night but plans to watch it on television in Youngstown.

Nevada Officials Eye General Speed Limit

Bomb Marks New Violence In Hong Kong

HONG KONG (AP) — A time bomb wrecked a rural government meeting house today in this British colony racked by two months of Communist Chinese violence.

In other areas, roving gangs of Communist-led Chinese burned buses, taxis and cars, smashed store fronts and fought police.

Police said the time bomb had been set to explode during a scheduled meeting of the rural advisory committee at Tai Po, an agricultural and fishing market town only six miles south of the Communist Chinese border.

The meeting had been postponed only a few hours earlier. There were no reports of death or injury in the blast, which tore apart the meeting room.

The explosion hit only a few hours after Colonial Secretary D.R. Holmes told Hong Kong's legislative committee that the colony "may well be entering a new phase of terrorism."

A dozen buses and cars were uplashed with gasoline and set afire in Kowloon, the Chinese city and tourist center across the harbor channel from Hong Kong.

Earlier, police clamped a dusk to dawn curfew on the island, center of the business and financial district and seats of the colonial government.

Rumors Hint Parochial Aid In Ohio Move

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Statehouse rumors hint that the administration of Gov. James A. Rhodes is considering state financial aid for parochial schools, and though the reports are unconfirmed, his top aide admitted "this item pops up from time to time."

But as for the current status of such a proposal, John McElroy, the governor's executive assistant, said "I haven't seen a thing on it."

McElroy was contacted late Tuesday night after rumors ran wild in the Statehouse that Rhodes and top legislative officials discussed the matter at a meeting Monday.

McElroy confirmed that Rhodes, House Speaker Charles F. Kurfess and Senate Majority Leader Theodore M. Gray met at the governor's mansion.

"There isn't a week that goes by that the governor doesn't meet with them. These are regular legislative meetings," McElroy reported.

McElroy added that he did not know what was on the agenda at the meeting but conceded one item may have been aid to parochial schools. "This item pops up from time to time," he said.

The Statehouse rumor mill had it that Roman Catholic and other denominations were asking Rhodes for aid because of pending $400 annual salary increases for public school teachers. The reports, rolling back and forth between newsmen and lobbyists, contend the church groups feel this will make it extremely difficult for them to compete with public schools for teachers.

The current rumors say a figure of $25-$30 million is being considered for the 1967-69 biennium.

The legislature in 1965 extended bus transportation to parochial school pupils.

Air Force Given Wingless Plane For 2-Year Test

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — A wingless plane designed to take a test pilot 100,000 feet high and plummet him down to a pinpoint landing has been turned over to the Air Force.

The craft, called a lifting body because its lift comes not from wings but from the shape of the body, was delivered Tuesday by the Martin Marietta Co.

The Air Force and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration hope to find out in test flights over the next two years if the wingless planes can be used in manned space flight.

Lt. Gen. Charles H. Terhune Jr., vice commander of the Air Force Systems Command who accepted the craft from the company, said the use of lifting bodies could reduce the cost of space travel by doing away with the "need for complex launching facilities, expendable booster systems and vast recovery forces."

The Martin plane, designated the X24A, is one of three wingless craft to be tested by the Air Force and NASA. It was built for the Air Force at a cost of $3.5 million, including testing.

Testing of its maneuverability at altitudes up to 100,000 feet and speeds of more than 1,500 miles an hour is scheduled to begin early next year.

Sohio Increases Retail Gas Price

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Standard Oil Co. (Ohio) raised its retail price of gasoline one cent per gallon at its 300 company-operated stations in the state, effective at midnight Tuesday.

Also, the wholesale price to dealers was raised three-tenths of a cent per gallon.

The increase brings the retail price of regular gas to 33.9 cents per gallon and the price to dealers to 16.7 cents per gallon.

Sohio President Charles E. Spahr said the company moved on the increases "with reluctance" and only after a "careful and realistic appraisal."

Sohio also has more than 3,000 stations operated by dealers and most of them are expected to raise their price one cent if they haven't already done so.

Earlier this year Sohio refrained from raising prices at company-operated stations despite increases by 11 other major companies.

Out Of The Air

A Quiet TV Revolution

"We're in a TV revolution," says producer David Susskind, once the medium's severest critic. "It's a quiet one, but a revolution nonetheless. I believe every night of the week next season there will be something of interest on TV."

To back up his contention, Susskind points to some 300 specials being planned by the three major networks, many of them for prime-time airing. His own Talent Associates company will produce 20 TV specials for the coming season, compared with only two the past season.

EIGHT of the Susskind specials are each two-hour taped dramatic adaptations of such well known works as "Of Mice and Men," "Diary of Anne Frank," "Johnny Belinda," "Dial M for Murder" and "Desperate Hours." These will be aired in either ABC's Sunday or Wednesday night movie spot once a month.

If this is such a big revolution, why isn't Susskind putting an original drama in here and there, instead of all adaptations of works most viewers already have seen in an old movie version on TV?

"Listen," Susskind says, that the sponsors who have bought into those Sunday and Wednesday night movie spots are not very much interested in art. They wouldn't have bought original drama, nor would Tom Moore, president of ABC.

"And anyway, I've got a better 'Dial M for Murder' with Laurence Harvey than Hitchcock's movie and the best 'Diary of Anne Frank,' too," Susskind says.

HE THINKS he was quite clever to talk ABC into buying these eight new productions. One of his arguments was that it would save them eight old movies, the supply of which runs lower each year, and also that selling his dramas into those movie nights assured him and ABC of sponsorship.

"Sure, I want to see original drama on TV, but my mistake in my youth was thinking it would come overnight," says Susskind. "Your opinion of the public may be higher than mine is, too."

"Now maybe this new generation wants to be shaken up, and that will be our hope. But the present generation doesn't want the themes in entertainment that the writers are hooked up on."

"I mean the serious themes like war and civil rights. At least what I'm doing for next season is an alternative to the junk, and I do think eventually the public will go for original drama."

AT THE same time, Susskind admits the reason the networks are planning so many specials this coming season is partially the fear that they were losing large segments of their audience.

Various polls have shown this to be true, and this, coupled with last year's generally low ratings on most of the new regular series, may have stirred the network heads more than they care to say.

Susskind hopes that by the 1968-69 season he will have an original drama anthology series on TV, and he also is working on a satire series with Jonathan Miller, one of the members of Britain's "Beyond the Fringe" group, which Susskind says will be genuine satire and "not so heavy handed as NBC's 'That Was the Week That Was'."

IRASCIBLE and uncompromising toward the networks just a few years ago, Susskind now has great sympathy and admiration for what he believes to be genuine efforts to climb above their current level of mediocrity.

"CBS took a $500,000 loss on our production of 'Death of a Salesman' last year, selling it for just the time charges, and I think the network deserves great credit for that."

"Jim Aubrey (the former CBS president) wouldn't have done it, and 'Death of a Salesman' was the big breakthrough. It had a 33 share of audience and started everybody thinking about specials," adds Susskind.

The mellowed TV rebel was out in Hollywood for the taping of "Johnny Belinda," starring Mia Farrow, which makes for a highly commercial piece of casting. He recently signed Princess Lee Radziwill, sister of Mrs. John F. Kennedy, to star in Truman Capote's adaptation of John Van Druten's "The Voice of the Turtle" as another of those eight taped dramas for one of ABC's movie nights.

House Plans Hearings On 'Lender' Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — House advocates of the so-called truth-in-lending bill, approved unanimously by the Senate, say the House will begin hearings on the measure in three weeks. The controversial legislation cleared the Senate 92 to 0 Tuesday after only 2½ hours of debate. House sponsors said hearings will be conducted by one of the bill's strong backers, Chairman Leonor K. Sullivan, D-Mo., of the Consumer Affairs subcommittee. Some opposition generated by retailers, bankers and others melted away in the Senate after several compromises were made in the bill's provisions. Many of its foes also became reconciled to its passage in some form during the lengthy consideration starting after former Sen. Paul H. Douglas, D-

Ill., introduced it in 1960. The bill would require disclosure of the cost of loans on items for which $100 billion of debt now is outstanding. The theory is that this will enable consumers to shop for the most advantageous credit terms. The bill would not regulate interest rates or credit charges. Consumers would have to be told two things on most debt transactions—the annual percentage interest rate and the total finance charge in dollars and cents. The biggest type of borrowing covered would be auto loans, now totaling more than $30 billion.

Order Restored After Strike Riot

NEWPORT NEWS, Va. (AP) — Police stood by today to maintain order at the strike-bound Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Co., where a two-hour riot erupted after midnight. A crowd estimated by newsmen as at least 3,000 persons turned on about 30 policemen in front of the shipyard. Some rioters overturned one police car, set it afire, and looted stores in a two-block area across from the shipyard. Police refused immediate comment on the cause of the riot, which broke out as striking members of the Peninsula Shipbuilders Association awaited the exit of nonstrikers on the shipyard's night shift. The U.S.S.R. has a law prohibiting dolphin fishing.

Cleveland Man Found Guilty In Girl's Death

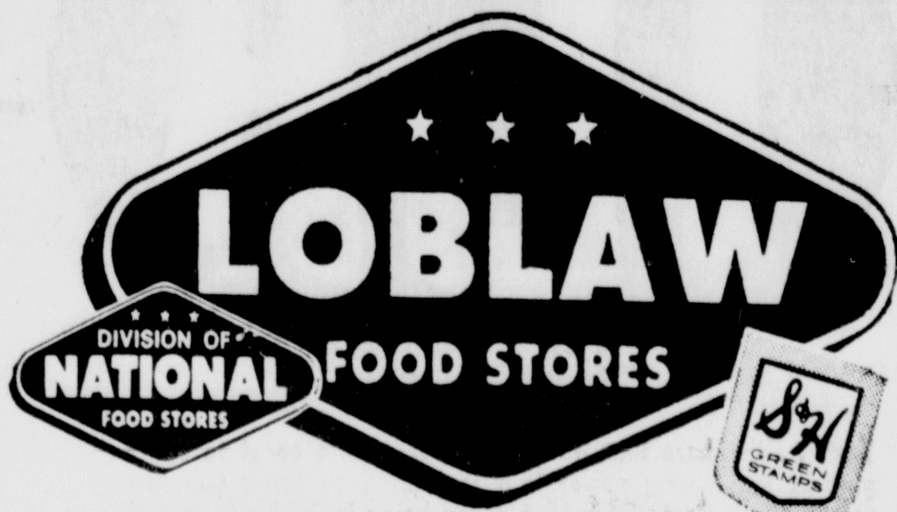

CLEVELAND (AP)—Marion L. Page Jr., convicted Tuesday of the knife slaying of his 17-year-old sister-in-law, faced sentencing today to a mandatory prison term. Page, 22, was found guilty of first-degree murder after the six-man, six-woman jury deliberated 11 hours. The trial had lasted a month.

A former mental patient, Page pleaded innocent and innocent by reason of insanity in the death of Kathy Damon. Jurors said they spent most of Tuesday deciding whether to spare Page's life.

A local drought in the State of Jalisco in Mexico can mean a national disaster. Mexico's 41 million people rely on Jalisco for their staff of life — corn. Rainfall in the state fluctuates between 8 and 55 inches a year.
